OUR CORRUPT JUDGES.

Consideration of the Charges Against Cardozo and Barnard.

How Criminals Were Released from the Penitentiary.

Over Two Hundred Writs of Habeas Corpus Issued.

Barnard Protests Against Mr. Tilden Being Present.

Ex-Judges Clerke and Sutherland and Mr. Sullivan Examined.

Yesterday, at 3 o'clock P. M., the Judiciary Committee ended their first week's work without, as they say, having completed the evidence in any one of the numerous cases involving Judge CARDOZO'S official action which were presented for investigation. A number of witnesses were examined, explaining Judge CARDOZO'S connection with the Black Friday panic, and the consequent injunction restraining the Gold Exchange Bank from continuing its business, but what effect the evidence has produced, or how far it implicates Judge CARDOZO, is known only to the Committee and the accused. That the evidence given in this matter was very contradictory may be judged from the fact that Mr. GRIFFIN, Mr. HENRY M. SMITH and Mr. BRAINE, in conversation, agreed that no better means of securing to the sellers their fullest rights could have been devised than by the issuing of the injunctions by Judge CARDOZO, while Mr. BARNARD, who was President of the week during the panic, took the opposite view, and assented to their Judge CARDOZO'S action in the matter. All these gentlemen seem to be somewhat confused in their testimony, but from another source, which appears to be well informed, it is learned that Judge CARDOZO, since he has got upon the Supreme Court Bench has released to their several writs no less a number than 200, and the records of the Court of Common Pleas show that 250 prisoners released from the prison of the judicial favor in this:

Released by Cardozo.....
By Barnard.....
By Ingraham.....
By Sutherland.....

Total.....

Upon inquiry it is found that the majority of these cases were heard and released by the same Judge CARDOZO, and it is said that his associates in the Bench and CLERK to Commissioner SAM CLARKSON, and it is said that he guaranteed many to go without even having their cases argued, and in the case of others without even seeing the prisoner.

During the first four days of the Committee's session Judge CARDOZO was present, and while privately having taken part in measures which many others had taken, and as Prosecutor M. HENRY expressed it, that the whole investigation would "end in smoke." Yesterday, however, the keenest man was pensive and subdued by turns, having evidently realized that the Committee were not a committee of fools or knaves, and that his sentences were met in deadly earnest mood, and with more knowledge of judicial proceedings than he had thought them possessed of.

Judges SUTHERLAND and CLERKE were also examined yesterday, and with Mr. VALENTINE, a Clerk of the Supreme Court, Warden BRADEN, of the Tombs, JAMES L. HAYES, and those previously mentioned, complete the list of witnesses.

The most interesting event of the day in reference to the investigations was the production by Judge CARDOZO to the Committee by Judge BARNARD, the document which is given at length, explains itself:

To the Honorable the Judiciary Committee of the House of Assembly of the State of New-York:

The undersigned, Gregory C. BARNARD, a Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New-York in the First Judicial District, respectfully represents:

That, having been notified that certain charges, to be made by persons unknown, of the [illegible] against the City of New-York, and also against him, as a Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New-York, which charges have been referred to your Committee for investigation, he respectfully submits for the consideration of your Committee the following statement:

That Hon. SAMUEL H. TILDEN to withdraw from the consideration and examination of said charges.

Conscious I have committed no wrong, I only ask a fair, full and impartial investigation.

I am only desirous of an unprejudiced examination of my official acts, in accordance with the rights guaranteed to me under the Constitution of my State. I would scorn to screen myself from any doubt as to my action; I only ask that the Committee be free from prejudice in the investigation; therefore, respectfully ask that your Committee request the said SAMUEL H. ITALY.

Balance of Payments—Reported Action in the Senate—Bad Debts—Retirement of Ministers—Italian Emigration—The Pope's Hymn—The President Chamberlain—An American Work on Art.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PARIS, THURSDAY, Feb. 1, 1872.

On the occasion of the reassembling of Parliament, after the Christmas vacation, not enough members could be gotten together to form a quorum. The Greys have been feasting and the trumpets blown, and an appeal made to the feeling of shame and disappointment of the Deputies, to induce them to come to their work, and make up a house of success. Some think [illegible] it is so difficult to find comfortable lodgings in Rome; some from fear of the small-pox, which is making many victims, and many from that feeling of indolence and indifference which in the Italians is still so hard to overcome. And that is the word, it is to be added the fact that we are in the Carneval, when all wish to have some kind of amusement. The Carneval, as we know, is here about eight days, or until the commencement of the Lent season. The Municipal Council was occupied at more than one session with the discussion of a question of no more importance than whether the ancient custom of the carters, on Sundays fastened into half omnibus, to ride in the Corso, on the last days of Carneval, should be kept up. The decision was in favor of keeping up the custom at least another year, and we natives and foreigners will see the horses roll. The Carneval will be lively, with a festival of music of the wild excitement of former years.

SOCIETY NEWS.

As for the social carnival, or that of balls and parties, in which we now are, the season has not been as animated as many expected and desired. Several of the patrician houses, such as the Doria and Pallavicini, have been thrown open; but many of the ancient aristocracy, following the footsteps of the Pope, have kept aloof from such reunions. The journals daily chronicle the movements of fashionable society. Much has been said of the happy success of the Napoleon family FOLK, in establishing a neutral ground in their apartment in the Tuileries Palace. At the ball given by Mrs. and Miss FOLK, a few nights back, besides the many secondary names that figure in the lists of the Roman nobility of the party of liberal opposition, a number of representatives of the Papal and Absolutist party were induced for the first time to comb out. Among the most conspicuous may be named the Princess ANFOSSI, the daughter by a second marriage of the Duchess DE SERMY and sister of the Duke DE BORDEAUX, the pretender to the French throne; and the Princess ROSPIGLIOSI, the wife of the Prince CIMINO. In the same family there are sometimes visible several seriously Miss, which is apt to restrain to what have little skill in such lore. Besides these there were at the ball the Duchess DI SANT ANTIMO, the Duchess DI RICCARDI (Talbot-Dorset the Princess PALLAVICINI, the Princess RAMBERTERRY, and so on with the brilliant list. There is promised a similar reunion next week at the ball to be given by Mrs. HILTON FIELD, of New-York, for some time resident here, in the Esquiline Palace.

THE NATION'S FINANCES.

Leaving society, and returning to politics, it must be said that little headway is yet made toward turning into law the scheme of Signor SELLA, the Finance Minister, for the better regulation of the money affairs of the State. The plan of the Minister is still in the hands of the special commission, appointed by Parliament for its careful examination. The article in the scheme which proposes to confide to the four leading banks of the Kingdom the service of the public Treasury, encounters considerable opposition outside of the Legislature. The economies, which are talked of as the principal advantage of the proposed measure, it is not believed will be sufficient to counterbalance the greatly increased political influence which would be given to these institutions of credit. The present paper circulation of the banks is about one thousand millions of francs, of which the Government enjoys a great part of the benefit. Signor SELLA proposes to increase the present amount of paper money to the amount of three hundred millions of francs, at the rate of sixty millions per annum for the period of five years. As is well known, his scheme of finance is laid out with reference to meeting the wants of the Treasury for that term. The amount of the public debt is now somewhat more than one thousand millions of our money, or about half that of the United States. The Italian funds seem to stand much better than now, either on the home or foreign market, and the desire is to avoid putting, by any act of legislature, a low tone to the public credit.

THE FRONDIST CONSPIRACY.

The Pope has not yet held the consistory for naming new Bishops. It is put off for a time. We are told by some of those who claim to keep the run of everything in the Vatican, that Pius IX. has got his allocution ready, and that its phrases are uncommonly strong indeed; that this time the Pontiff has charged a gun which will go off. Will make a noise which will be heard all over the world. Meanwhile, contributions of good Catholics from all parts continue to go to the Vatican, carrying such consolation, in the form of fattening words and pensions, as under the circumstances, it is thought will be most acceptable to the Holy Father. While Catholic unions everywhere are repeating the allertion that the Gesuiti is a myth, and refused to the last extremity, I have, in Rome, the faithful are still talking about getting up a subscription so as to form a Jesuit fund. Man is an animal of very irregular habits, and it cannot be expected that he will always be logical; but he should be sufficiently consistent not to expose himself to ridicule. "As the moment his temporal sovereignty is taken away it is proposed, in mockery, to give the Pope a golden throne; worse is his professed poverty be made for a fish, he receives a stone."

The Vicar RECANTINI has been in Rome for several weeks, and it is whispered that it is his intention to establish himself permanently here.

This week the first number of a weekly religious, scientific and political review, printed in the French language, and called the Zouave de Rome, made its appearance. It is to be the organ of the reform party in the Catholic Church in Rome itself, the centre of the Vatican.

I spoke in a recent letter of the excellent work of art, nearly completed in the clay, by the American sculptor, Mr. FRANKLIN SIMMONS, of which my subject is "Cleobulus, holding in his lap the infant Moses." It is gratifying to know that the merit of the work has found a prompt appreciation, and has been judiciously rewarded by the order given, a few days ago, by Mr. MATTHEW ARNOLD, of Rugby, for the figure into marble, at the price of $6,000. The sculptors seem to have better reason to be satisfied with the encouragement which they meet in the sale of their works, and at a liberal price, than do the painters. Amongst us, so far as it is permitted to Italy, seems to run more to sculpture than might be expected; but whether among painters or sculptors established here, and much complaint is heard of a slow market for art-works.

ANGELICO.

Troubles of the North Carolina Senatorships.

From the Raleigh (N. C.) Sun, Feb. 26.

The dismemberment of the Democratic Party has forced attaches of the capitol of this State. When Gov. HOLDEN, Rising the Senatorial Disintegration, appointed Gaston to the Senate, a prominent Republican declared (and it has since been said during his term upon his mind in particular) emphatically said: "I am President. I have the Senate Chamber never to return, but before I leave it, I Governor you all to go to the wedding, and connect body and soul as one man, with the Republican party." And he has done so. Governor HOLDEN, in fact, is now the head of the Republican party in this State, and has been since the Democratic Convention disowned the people of their just representation. And the Democratic Party is now [illegible]

The defendant in error brought suit to recover a debt of $60,000, which it had presented to the receiver, and which had been disallowed by that officer. The action was at common law, and process was served upon the receiver as the representative of the bank. The plaintiff in error claimed exemption from the service, by virtue of the provisions of the Currency Act of 1864, that disallowance and rejection by the receiver of the bank of the claim, was a decisive adjudication of the claim; but the Court held otherwise, and the judgment was for the plaintiff there. It is here contended that the rights of the parties depend upon a construction of the Act of Congress

ALL ABOUT GRAVEL.

The Rented Gravel Pit Examination Concluded Yesterday.

Important Testimony by Mr. Jesse Ryder and Ex-Gov.—Judge Hilton's Succession Manner.—Young Ryder Wants to Know Why Testimony Adverse to Him and Was Excluded.

The Subcommittee from the Assembly Committee of Ways and Means, appointed to investigate the charges against Mr. JAMES W. HUSTED, relative to certain fraudulent practices in connection with the sale of gravel to the City of New York, together with the accusation that Mr. HUSTED'S action as a member of the Legislature of 1870, was contributed by a corrupt bargain, concluded its labors at the St. Nicholas Hotel yesterday.

JUDGE HILTON'S TESTIMONY.

Judge HENRY HILTON was the first witness sworn, who testified as follows:

To Mr. HUSTED—I read the published statement made by Mr. HUSTED in the Assembly with regard to his connection with the Gravel Company, and the matter of furnishing gravel to the Department of Parks, and it was quite in every respect.

Mr. ALVORD—In the purchase of gravel for the Department of Parks, was it made by pre-arranged contract or for a stipulated price?

A.—During my connection with the Department I never purchased or agreed upon the price for the purchase of any gravel used by the Department. They had been long using a peculiar and valuable gravel from Ross Hook Bath, and the Engineer in Chief and Park Superintendent both considered it to be essential to have this gravel; like all purchases, they were made upon requisitions for specified amounts from the chiefs of bureaus; as Treasurer, before filling the order it had to be approved by me or the President; it was then filled under the direction of Mr. VAN NORT, the Controller, by Mr. J. P. BARKER, his purchasing clerk; they were not limited in getting the gravel from any person who could furnish it; after the Spring of 1871, when, as I understand, this gravel bank had been secured by a company, I was informed of the price the Company had put upon the gravel; I understood that the price so fixed was a regular one, and alike to all persons purchasing; when informed by Mr. BARKER or Mr. VAN NORT of this price, my usual answer would be that if we can't do any better, I suppose we will have to take it at their own price, until we can find some one who will sell to as good quality for less money; about a year previous to my resignation, in conjunction with the Engineer in Chief, I had made many efforts to find a gravel bed of equal quality; I had seen many persons claiming to own such, and had samples of their gravel sent me for examination; I would hand these to the Engineer in Chief to examine, and report to me the result; in all cases his report was adverse to the quality of gravel; Mr. SWEENY was cognizant of all my efforts in this direction, and we advised together on the subject for the purpose of procuring a cheaper gravel of suitable quality; the last report of the Engineer in Chief on the subject of gravel, together with the various specimens in cans in the office, I left in my Treasurer's desk upon leaving the Department; Mr. STERBINS must have had these in his possession from that time; he could not have been unaware of the contents of the statements said to have come from him on this subject. Finally I have to say that there never was any contract, corrupt or otherwise, made with Mr. HUSTED or the Peekskill Gravel Company, in the purchase of gravel for the Park Department during my connection with it, except to purchase this peculiar gravel at what I understood to be the market price they put upon it, and which I knew we could either take or let alone; nor was there ever a yard of gravel, during a year prior to my leaving the Department, that I did not allow, in the hope that before that order would be filled I would be able to find a cheaper gravel; nor was there ever a yard purchased beyond what was considered as absolutely essential and necessary for the works of the Department; I never had any interview of any kind with any person offering gravel for sale, except a man by the name of RYDER, who had formerly furnished gravel to the Department; he had two interviews with him; I think at both of which I declined and urged him to accept orders for furnishing gravel to the Department direct, as I understood that he had a river bank, which he could retail either himself or by contract for the benefit of his friend TOM MCCONNELL, but I have reason to believe that he did; don't know of my own knowledge of any corrupt bargain or understanding between the Commissioners of Public Parks or any of their officials with Mr. JAMES W. HUSTED as an individual; or with the Peekskill Gravel Company, of which he was a member, connected with the sale of gravel to the public parks; nor have I ever said so to my own personal knowledge; think I have not said so to the letter which I wrote to the Times; I alluded to the formation of the Company and the sale of gravel; don't know of any corrupt bargain or understanding between the officials named and Mr. HUSTED in reference to the formation of this Company; don't know of any act or thing connected with the formation, existence or business of the Peekskill Gravel Company which could in any way or form, influenced in the slightest degree the [illegible] of James W. Husted; have no positive knowledge of any such thing; furnished gravel for a series of years to the Department of Parks; it was done by way of orders or requisitions or deliver when and where required; price was always agreed upon in these requisitions, and the quantities specified; it was optional with me to deliver or not; there was no possible remedy in the way of a suit for damages by the City officials against me, provided I refused to deliver; since the delivery of gravel by the Peekskill Gravel Company, with a knowledge of my ability to perform, I have never objected to the Controller, Parks or any of his officers, gravel equal to the Ross Hook quality of gravel; and these that gravel was not furnished in time; but I [illegible] Mr. HUSTED, or any person connected with the Peekskill Gravel Company, ever said that he had a verbal contract or bargain with me for the delivery of gravel; I never saw the signature of Mr. STEBBINS until [illegible] my attention was called to it; did not understand the matter; he saw the gravel from Verplanck's Bank, on the east side of the river; there was the same kind of gravel that the contractor called for; I thought it was the same quality; understood the order was given to Ross Hook, but of a quality approved by Superintendent of Parks; about ten yards of the order was filled, the river having frozen up; know that the order was countermanded by Mr. STEBBINS; don't know of my own knowledge that Mr. HUSTED had been in the habit of [illegible] Ross Hook gravel; never saw the signature of Mr. STEBBINS to any paper; I never saw the signature of Mr. STEBBINS to any paper; Mr. STEBBINS told me at the time that he had sent the order, and that the reason for the contractor not having it was that they were up the river and preferred waiting for the Department to send for it; that gravel I believe was not furnished because it was thought that there was a better gravel to be had
